

Atypical Behavioral Interventions for the Difficult Child

A seminar for professionals by
John K. Rosemond, M.S.

Best selling author, columnist, speaker and family psychologist.
John's syndicated column appears every Sunday in the Honolulu
Advertiser.

Friday, March 13, 2009

8:30 am – 2:30 pm

Kukui Plaza Conference Room, 2nd Floor
55 S. Kukui Street, Downtown Honolulu

$80 by March 10th or $100 at the door
Registration fee includes lunch and materials

What you'll learn at the seminar:

- ★ Interventions that work – sleep issues, toilet training, eating problems, disobedience and defiance, tantrums, and underachievement.
- ★ Behavior disorders and the concept of “perpetual toddlerhood.”
- ★ Why “leadership discipline” works and operant conditioning or behavior modification doesn't work (for long).
- ★ How we got to where we are today in terms of parenting and children's behavior.
- ★ And much more!
